Stalin Interview Gets Some Results

Partial Basis for Agreement Reached in Kremlin Talks

By Eddie Gilmore
MOSCOW, Aug. 24.—(AP)—A qualified source said the western envoys and Russia have reached a general area of agreement during talks climaxed last night by a long Kremlin interview with Prime Minister Stalin.

The informant said technicalities lie ahead for adjustment but that these are not trifles and will require considerable negotiation.

Walter Bedell Smith, United States ambassador, emerged from the Kremlin after the meeting in a buoyant mood and declared "we've got to have more meetings."

"We're always optimistic. We expect the best and prepare for the worst."

MOLOTOV IS SNAG
The envoys have been trying since late July to find bases for lifting the land blockade Russia imposed on Berlin and for four-power talks on Germany and perhaps other problems in Europe.

The meeting last night, attended by Stalin, Foreign Minister Molotov, and Smith and his British and French colleagues, lasted four hours and 40 minutes.

It was learned on excellent authority that the three western envoys took their case to Stalin at a point well developed in the meeting with Molotov.

It was the second session the Soviet prime minister attended. The previous one was Aug. 2, when he was the ranking Russian official at meetings July 31, Aug. 6, Aug. 9, Aug. 12 and Aug. 16.

WORK ALL NIGHT
The sun was up and Moscow was bright before Smith had finished his night's work. He was reported to have been on his feet until 1 a.m. and French Ambassador Yves Chateignau got up at midnight.

Moscow's morning newspapers fringed signs of the meeting under big headlines, but there was nothing even resembling editorial comment.

Stalin had said last night that he had received the Soviet prime minister's report.

SKUNK SCUTTLES ART OF SHAPELY ZOE MOZERT

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Zoe Mozart has been rendered more pale.

She is as pale as a sheet, for she, comely and shapely, who does those stumpy-ravishing young maidens national calendars at your office, cannot wield her paintbrush.

She has been bitten by a skunk. She is scheduled to play a part with claret hair and a you in a Western movie. Doing research, she went to a place that had a skunk for sale.

The animal objected to a change in scenery and retreated, but, being, which is his 20 attack here, I is somewhat odorous.

Miss Mozart has several un-finished sketches in her studio, so if plunger Joe Whoo's eyebrow-raising calendar is a hit late this season, blame the skunk.

Planes Collide,
4 Airmen Die

RAVOTZHAUSEN, Germany, Aug. 21.—(AP)—Two American planes on the supply run to blockaded Berlin collided outside this American town today, killing four United States Air Force fliers.

The planes were being killed previously in two accidents on the air run since the Russians blocked Berlin late in June.

TWO ENGINE C-47s
The planes were two-engine C-47s. They plunged into cornfields around this village, 14 miles north of Frankfurt, about four hours and 40 minutes.

American Located in Wembley Area

V. G. Murray of Washington, D.C., who flew north alone from Edmonton on August 7 "to get away from it all," has been found alive but injured, southwest of Wembley.

Wembley is about 25 miles north and west of Edmonton.

Only official information about finding the missing American, object of a long air and ground search, was the following message received by RCMP in Edmonton from the Grande Prairie detachment today:

"Murray located 75 miles southwest of Wembley. Murray alive but injured. Being brought to Wembley."

LITTLE INFORMATION
RCMP here did not know definitely whether or not Murray had crashed in his Cessna plane in the wild bush country north and west of Grande Prairie. It is presumed, however, that the American may have been injured in a forced landing.

Although it was believed at first that searching RCMP officers had found Murray in late denied that the police here said in Grande Prairie.

Murray had filed a flight plan with Dominion Department of Transport officers here, giving Prairie, B.C., as his destination, before taking off on Aug. 7.

RCMP search and rescue planes, which were sent to look for the airplane, failed to arrive there when the search was called off.

The letter from Murray told of "an extraordinary flight with some buildings in the wilds of Northern Alberta, 100 miles from the nearest town."

It is estimated that the air and ground search for Murray cost at least $25,000.

SEARCH COST $25,000
Soon after the search began, Murray's disappearance had become complicated when a Washington friend disclosed contents of a letter he received.

Third Polio Death, Three New Cases Reported Here

Edmonton's third death from poliomyelitis was reported by city health authorities today and the city's toll of polio victims mounted to 26 with the reporting of three new cases.

Death was that of a boy of 16, who had been ill with the disease for the past six days.

Two other deaths from polio have occurred in Edmonton during the current epidemic.

Three other deaths have occurred in the rest of Alberta.

NEW CITY CASES
Three new city cases of polio are those of a girl of 12 and a girl of two, and one-half from northeast Edmonton, and a boy of 11 from the west end.

Two cases from the rest of the province brought the provincial total to 14 cases. One previous case diagnosed as polio was redesignated as another malady.

Boy of six from Wainwright and boy of 10 from Palgrave are the new provincial cases.

Village of Fairview has passed a ban on young people under 16 years of age. It was learned today from Dr. A. Sumerville, director of communicable diseases for Alberta.

APPEALS TO PARENTS
Dr. Little appealed to Edmonton parents for greater co-operation in enforcing the present ban in the city.

He asked parents to be more strict in keeping their children from assembling in groups with others, and urged parents not to take children downtown while shopping or travelling in the city. This will keep the children from making new contacts and thus running the risk of contracting the disease.

Crop Outlook Is Promising

OTTAWA, Aug. 24.—(CP)—Crop conditions throughout Canada are generally favorable, with harvesting now in full swing in most sections, the Bureau of Statistics said today.

Good weather in recent weeks has increased crop possibilities in the prairie, the bureau said. In one of a series of telegraphic reports dealing with crops in every province.

Southern Ontario's crop is near-record, the report said. When yields in that area have been above average.

In Saskatchewan harvesting is under way in all districts and progress is being made. Crops are late in Alberta but are filling stately. Harvesting of grain grasses will be general next week. Grain harrower damage is continuing in the affected areas of Alberta and Saskatchewan and swallows are causing some damage in southern districts of these provinces.

British Teachers To Ease Shortage

MONTREAL, Aug. 24.—(CP)—Montreal Protestant Central School Board authorities announced that 15 British teachers engaged to alleviate the shortage of Protestant teachers in this city, will arrive here today. The teachers are scheduled to arrive earlier in British Columbia.

Cloudy With Wind Today

It's going to be cloudy and windy most of today, with some rain this evening.

Here's the what, where, and why of the weather as forecast by the Dominion public weather bureau for this morning, with a fine last windy day tonight.

SYNOPSIS
The active weather system which moved through Northern Alberta yesterday is taking a more northerly course than was formerly anticipated. As a result, the general rain which was expected today will not develop and a fine last windy day is forecast for all prairie regions.

The cold polar air behind the storm is still pushing northward however, and has already engulfed the Peace River region. This air mass is expected to reach the northern prairie regions this evening, bringing cool weather with some very light rain.

New Pacific disturbance is developing off the Northern B.C. coast today, and will move rapidly eastward, reaching here tomorrow afternoon. This will prevent serious frost damage tonight in Peace River region, and greatly reduces risk of frost in Edmonton tomorrow night.

FORECAST
Edmonton and Jasper Regions: Overcast today and Wednesday, showers in Edmonton this evening, continuous rain tomorrow morning stopping early in the afternoon; winds west 20 mph; cooler; low to night and high tomorrow at Edmonton 47 and 58, at Jasper 50 and 65.

It Happened TODAY

BBC "38 Questions" show in Blackpool. His condition today is described as good.

People

The King and Queen, with Princess Margaret Rose, will visit 40 places in the 32-day tour of New Zealand scheduled for their beginning February 28. They will also attend a Maori church. The trip will be made on the battleship Vanguard.

A Danish geologist's husband is acting as baby-sitter in Copenhagen while his wife, Dr. Marie Hammer, seeking evidence concerning the separation of the continents, looks for microscopically small fossils on the shores of Hudson's Bay. Her investigations have already taken her to Akivik, Coppermine, Yellowknife and Northern British Columbia.

Dr. Hewitt Johnson, the "Red Dean of Canterbury," who was refused a visa to the United States, is expected to visit Canada early in November and to speak to the Ottawa People's Forum, a group which discusses politics as well as economic and social trends.

War Crimes

Lieutenant-General Yasuoka Okamura, in a Shanghai war-crimes trial, was defended by four of his army commanders who shouldered all blame for the rape and massacre of Chinese by Japanese troops during the war. Three of the four are serving life sentences and the fourth, 30 years.

Crime

Robert Barr, 40-year-old Chicago janitor who had been deprived of his home by eviction, secured a souvenir First World War bayonet and killed his wife, Fredericka Kuehn, Barr said Kuehn had kissed him as janitor and had then taken action to have him evicted.

Medicine

An unusual discovery in the field of protecting people from atomic radiation has been outlined by five Chicago scientists. The rays cause a long-lasting anemia, but it is anemia is induced before exposure to rays, the rays have little effect and recovery is rapid.

The medical centre of Baltimore, Maryland, announced with an unusual form of free doctors' care, worked out by five doctors themselves. The late rays the doctors $10 per patient per year, regardless of the number of consultations. No opposition is expected from doctors because the plan was worked out by doctors.

World

A tiny 16-acre sovereign state will be formed in the heart of Africa by its own police and fire department, and immune to all laws of other countries. The state, which is known as the United Nations, will be the meeting place of the September 24 to December general session of the U.N.

Shrewd, sharp-tongued John Costello, 57-year-old Prime Minister of Eire, is conducting an experiment in that country which is unique in its history: five parties have united under him to form a coalition government, and some observers even believe Eamon De Valera may lead his Fianna Fail group into the government fold.

In Cape Town, South Africa, mines minister Eric Louw moved second reading of a bill which will give complete state control through an atomic energy board of exploitation and treatment of radioactive materials and the generation of atomic energy. S. C. chief supply of uranium is found in association with the country's gold ores.

Manners and Morals

In Toronto, the crowd waiting outside a home for the emergence of a newly-married couple and groom were astonished when two men tumbled out the doorway, fighting. The pair, two brothers of the bride, were fined $50 and $40 for aggravated assault. The cause of the fracas: too many toasts, apparently.

Merchants of the Wasaga Beach resort, outside Toronto, have complained to police that rowdy gangs of Toronto youths are running businesses. One visitor, from Cleveland, Ohio, reported he was sitting quietly on the veranda of an inn when "about 20 youths" he had never seen, before set upon him and beat him up, knocking out a tooth.

In Reno, Nevada, the six members of the city council voted unanimously to pass an ordinance prohibiting the practice of prostitution within the city. However, a petition, with some 4,000 signatures, is being circulated and will call for a special election at which the people of Reno will decide the question once and for all.

Entertainment

Pretty Donna Grescoe, Winnipeg violin virtuoso, was one of half-dozen Canadian artists who took part in a television salute to Canada as a member of the U.S. through the U.S. of New York television station WPIX. Miss Grescoe will make a Canadian concert tour the autumn, opening in Toronto, November 19.

Shirley McPherson, Winnipeg, who, during the last two years, has become one of Britain's most popular radio sports announcers and master of ceremonies, collapsing from food poisoning on the stage of the

U.S. to Integrate 3 Services' Work

Army, Navy, Air Force Must Act Jointly on Some Tasks

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Integration of the United States Army, Navy and Air Force moved one step closer yesterday, as a paper at least—with an agreement that each must call on the other for help if that will cut costs and do a better job.

At the same time it was agreed that each service shall have the responsibility of figuring out what is needed for a task in its primary field.

That was the principal result announced yesterday by Defence Secretary Forrestal after a closely-guarded week-end conference with top men of all three services at the Naval War College at Newport, R.I.

The Newport agreements were intended to extend and clarify an outline of service responsibilities laid out at a similar conference in New York City, last March.

At that time strategic bombing, defined as destruction of an enemy's industrial, transportation and other such facilities, was assigned primarily to the air force.

At the same time the navy got the assignment of carrying out air operations which would help achieve the objectives of a naval campaign.

There was an overlap in the services' interpretations. Forrestal's statement yesterday was in broad, non-specific language.

Reporters checking for immediate results could get no statement on whether the Newport pact means the navy now can participate in one of the Berlin airlift.

A navy expert estimated that the service's flying boats could take in about 200 tons of supplies, landing on lakes in the Berlin area and avoiding airports where traffic jams are one of the limiting factors on supply flights by land planes.

Trail Woman Dies In Auto Accident

NELSON, B.C., Aug. 24.—(CP)—A woman was killed and her husband and son injured when their automobile crashed over a highway bank about 75 miles west of here Sunday night and plunged 100 feet to railway tracks below.

Mrs. Alfred Harvey of Trail, B.C. was flung from the car as it spilled over the embankment. She was dead when help arrived on the scene.

Alfred Harvey and their son William are in hospital at Nelson. The family were on their way home from a holiday at Nelson. Nature of their injuries was not disclosed.

Planes Collide, 4 Airmen Die

RAVOTZHAUSEN, Germany, Aug. 21.—(AP)—Two American planes on the supply run to blockaded Berlin collided outside the American zone town today, killing four United States Air Force fliers.

Five American fliers have been killed previously in two accidents on the air run since the Russians blocked Berlin late in June.

TWO ENIGMA C-47s

The plane was two-engine C-47. They plunged into the earth around this village, 14 miles north of Frankfurt. The plane was returning to Wiesbaden from Berlin, where they had delivered supplies.

Burgomister George Klehm of Ravotzhausem said the two planes flew over the village about 9:30 a.m.

"Suddenly there was a change in the noise of the motors of one of the planes," he said. "Afterwards there was a huge crash not far from the village."

FELL NEAR VILLAGE

"One plane crashed down about 1,000 feet from the edge of the village and the other fell about 200 feet beyond it," Klehm said both planes were flying low, beneath rain clouds.

Parts of the planes rained down on the village after the crash but no one was hurt. The roof of one farmer's house was destroyed.

It was learned on excellent authority that the three western envoys took their ease to Stalin at a time developed in recent meetings with Molotov.

It was the second session since the Soviet prime minister attended. The previous one was Aug. 2. The talks were the peak of a Russian official at meetings July 31, Aug. 6, Aug. 9, Aug. 12 and Aug. 16.

WORK ALL NIGHT

The sun was up and Moscow was bright before Smith had finished his night's work. British representative Frank Roberts was reported to have worked on his report until 3 a.m. and French Ambassador Yvon Chaigneau got to bed sometime between 6 a.m. and 7 a.m.

Moscow's morning newspapers (reprinted news of the meeting under big headlines, but there was nothing even resembling editorial comment. The announcement merely said Stalin had received the western diplomats and that Molotov was present.

Western circles here feel that it may be possible to make decisive progress in the next few weeks on the Berlin and German problems and arrive at what ultimately may be the foundation of a genuine settlement, satisfactory to both sides.

HOPE FOR SETTLEMENT

(Whitehall sources in London said Stalin introduced certain "new ideas" which offer hope for an East-West settlement in Berlin. The introduction of these unexplained new thoughts dispelled fears that the diplomatic exchanges would break down, the informants said. They added that prolongation of the Moscow negotiations averted a potentially explosive international situation, at least temporarily.

Indications here were that the Four Powers may issue a public statement shortly on the talks.

Ruhr Demands Crop Up Again

BERLIN, Aug. 24.—(AP)—The Communist press is beating the drum again for a Russian share in western Germany's coal-rich Ruhr. The demands, seemingly times with the Moscow negotiations which drew Berlin's attention today, appear to be in outgrowth of the Soviet zone's economic troubles, which the western press has reported on the increase since the Soviet blockade cut it off from Ruhr output.

Committee Gets 'Valuable' Testimony by Former Red

FRAUD ATTEMPT IS BOOMERANG

WINNIPEG, Aug. 24.—(CP)—James Wilson, 25, of Winnipeg, was sentenced to 18 months in penitentiary yesterday when he was convicted of attempting to defraud the wife of his penitentiary cell-mate of $22.

Wilson was released from Headingley jail Saturday and went to the cell-mate's wife and told her he was a policeman and needed $22 to pay a liquor fine for her husband. He was to call back later for the cash. The police were there on his return.

United States military government newspaper, Die Welt, had brought new reports of "chaos and hunger" in the Soviet zone.

It also came on the heels of Gen. Lucius D. Clay's latest report on economic conditions in the west, which by contrast, reported a 10-per-cent gain in Russian industrial production for a post-war high. The report said brightest spot was iron and steel production in the Ruhr.

Commenting on the Communist campaign for participation in the Ruhr, the report said it looked to be "as though the Russians would like to get their hands into western Germany and benefit by it now that it is beginning to show signs of recovery."

But Richard M. Nixon, R. Cal., head of an un-American activities subcommittee, said: "Mr. Butler was able to testify on the Hiss-Chambers controversy and was able to contribute valuable information to the committee."

He said that "Butler" may be called back in public session."

Nixon said Butler appeared under subpoena and is remaining under subpoena. He added that the subcommittee will question four more witnesses secretly before the day is over.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—(BUP)—Ex-Communist Louis Budenz today gave House Red hunters what they called "valuable information" bearing on each of two key witnesses lied to the Un-American Activities Committee.

The former editor of the Communist Daily Worker testified in secret session for 40 minutes on what has been labelled by committee members as "the Hiss-Chambers controversy."

TESTIMONY CONFLICTS

Whittaker Chambers, former Communist now employed by Time Magazine, has testified that Alger Hiss, former high-ranking state department official, was a leader in an alleged Red underground organized among federal employees before the war. Hiss has testified he never was a Communist. But he gave their testimony under oath.

Hiss and Chambers will face each other at a public committee hearing tomorrow. Budenz, it was learned, probably will be present.

Budenz, who renounced Communism and returned to the United States, was subpoenaed to testify before the house committee since his recollection. He refused to tell reporters what he said today.

But Richard M. Nixon, R. Cal., head of an un-American activities subcommittee, said: "Mr. Butler was able to testify on the Hiss-Chambers controversy and was able to contribute valuable information to the committee."

He said that "Butler" may be called back in public session."

Everyone Catches 'Fever' in Bridge River Uranium Rush

URANIUM! Search for mystery mineral of the atomic age has sent hundreds of veteran prospectors, like Joe Russell, 72, (above) into the rugged Bridge River country of B.C. He is shown working on the actual vein on his claim.

WIFE TAKES OVER Bridge River hardware store while her husband joins the hunt for veins of fabulously expensive radioactive mineral. Mrs. Laila Freyberg, in her husband's absence, sells an axe to Charles Fazio, a Minto, B.C. miner who is off to the diggings himself. Even the town's citizens have succumbed to excitement of treasure hunt.

EXPERIENCED PROSPECTOR Patrick Ryan, 74, who knows the land and odds of mineral-seeking game, learned from 40 years in the wilds, picks up his metal claim tags from government mining recorder Mrs. Esmek McNeil. Tags will be attached to corner posts of his "claim." While in town he takes time to examine samples of uranium-bearing ore.

Meeting Next Week On School Opening

Whether or not city schools will open on September 1 cannot be decided for at least one week, it was stated today by Dr. G. M. Little, city medical health officer.

We cannot commit ourselves yet," said Dr. Little. He said the peak of the present polio epidemic in Edmonton should be reached this week, and nothing can be decided until the trend of the epidemic is obvious.

The doctor stated that until last week-end the occurrence of polio cases was "not alarming," and only time will tell whether or not the surge of new cases during the past three or four days is temporary or not.

MEET AUG. 30 City board of health will meet August 30 to pass judgment on the date for opening of schools.

If the present ban on youngsters, under 16, remains after that meeting, high schools will remain closed in addition to public schools since split classes would result—closed classes include some youngsters under 16.

West Jasper Place school board decided last week to open its school on the same date as City of Edmonton schools.

Provincial Health Survey Gets Started

Survey of health and hospital conditions in Alberta will start "at once," Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, minister of health, said today as he released some details of the Dominion government's health grant to the province.

The federal government has set aside $25,000 to conduct a Canada-wide survey of hospital needs in the various provinces.

Of this, Alberta's share, based on population estimate, is $42,000. The federal government also set aside $30,000 during the last session of parliament for hospital improvement and construction, but some of this is to be allocated to the provinces until a survey of hospital conditions has been commenced.

Sniping at the Civic Survey

Edmonton's projected civic survey is intended to set up a planned administration that will make the taxpayer's dollar go further. That grille, grille, administration will save the taxpayer money because it will give him something tangible in the way of improved services for it.

But apparently the Journal newspaper cannot see that point. So it solemnly cautions Aldermen Ogilvie, Gleave and Bisset, the council's committees on the civic survey, to be in mind the fact that improved services for Edmonton are going to cost money and that the taxpayer will have to pay for it.

This view is so gloomy and reactionary and unreasonable that it will appeal to few intelligent Edmonton taxpayers.

It represents a viewpoint that has stifled and stultified the progress of this city for a generation.

The Journal pictures Edmonton's growth as a sort of millstone hanging around the necks of those who have been paying taxes for the past 50 years. It grows so large that it is a city grows so does the number and resources of taxpayers increase.

Deliberately or carelessly The Journal neglected to mention that the solid growth of Edmonton, built substantially on the development of oil and mineral resources, on expanding agriculture, on new industries and air traffic, will add materially to the sources from which civic revenue may be derived.

Of course paved streets and utilities and schools will cost money. Nobody ever denied it.

But The Bulletin's emphasis on the crying need for an overall civic survey has more than once bellowed down to this:

That without a civic survey and under present disorganized and unplanned civic administration, the taxpayers are paying out their dollars and getting little value for them.

With a proper organization of civic administration, secured by a comprehensive survey, the taxpayers will still pay out their money but they will get real value for it.

In trying to throw a scare into the taxpayers with this archaic nonsense the Journal insults their intelligence.

It is necessary to spend money to make money. And there is nothing so expensive as inefficiency. The Journal forgets these facts when it goes out to snipe at the civic survey.

Those Highly Efficient Russians

In Russia, following plans which some Socialists have talked about in Western Canada, the great majority of farmers are actually hired men, working on collective farms.

The land belongs to the government and is divided up into huge farms, very heavily staffed, according to Canadian standards.

Each worker, however, is allowed a small piece of land for his own use and is permitted to keep some pigs or a cow. Since farm workers live on the rationed food by the farms they can sell most of their own produce for cash and are allowed to make these sales free of price control.

It is admitted that the cash obtained in this way is practically all the money the farmers ever see and that there is a temptation to consume some of the food which they raise on their little plots in order to piece out the government ration. But the Soviet government has now announced a tremendous increase in the income tax on cash received by farmers. It is said to be up now to something like 90 percent.

Thus, the high efficiency of the Russian government becomes apparent. Operating a slave system, the Soviet Union does not propose to let any group of its slaves become too independent.

When a farmer operates a little farm's business of his own, which brings in some cash, he is likely to feel a little less dependent on the government farm organization. So the Soviet government has taken harsh steps to see that this independence does not become too real.

The Russian government farms the farmer openly for the purpose of obtaining cheap food for city workers.

This is a necessary part of the Communist system.

Recreation During Polio Ban

John Farina, Edmonton's superintendent of public recreation, should be commended for promoting the home-activities campaign for children restricted by the polio ban.

In anticipation of the recently-imposed measure which prohibits children under sixteen from attending public gatherings, Farina, together with his assistants, has prepared a comprehensive plan of home entertainment for our young people.

Material was gathered by weeks of "burrowing through hordes of material on games, stunts, backyard playgrounds, contests, radio shows and feature articles."

The Bulletin is completely in favor of this far-sighted enterprise and is publishing a series of articles outlining the "Fun at Home" program of the Recreation Commission. Radio broadcasts on the subject are also being made.

Preparedness of this young and aggressive department head, when faced with a radical shift of operations, should be heartily noted by other city superintendents.

ODDS AND ENDS

By Harold L. Weir

When Snobs Move In True Art Moves Out

Like other musical illiterates, I shall spill no tears because the Metropolitan Opera is going to have been forced to close its ornate doors.

On the whole, I am suspicious of grand opera—mostly because I never quite know what it is all about.

I am aware, of course, that there are many magnificent passages in many operas and I thoroughly enjoy the renditions of these selected passages on the concert stage.

But grand opera in the mass strikes me as pretentious and ridiculous, the absurdity of which is emphasized by the usual paucity of acting talent providing a thin and unsatisfactory setting for whatever sublimity there may be in the music itself.

At a peak, of course, out of the profundity of ignorance, but for the reasons I have just stated, I refuse to come all over town to see the opera Met has had to shut up shop.

To my way of thinking the Metropolitan Opera has been the home of the most massive and snobbish in the United States.

And there is something almost blasphemous in making a social event of music.

In that respect, the Metropolitan Opera has represented a form of snobbery, a form of art which is traditional.

That is to say, it has been the custom for all the arts to be subsidized by wealthy patrons.

In the Middle Ages and up to the beginning of modern times, the musician or painter or poet was without patrons who handed out largesse to creative genius for the sake of his own light.

It has been customary to say that art has flourished under the patronage of the aristocracy.

I think art patronage has stultified genius all down the ages. And whatever superficially, artificially and downright hampered the creative genius of the artist, it has appeared because somewhere in the background was a condescending patron, sucking on the head of his walking stick and believing in the value of his own taste.

He had given birth to beauty.

respect, between the belated power picture, eating off their lips, and the grotesque and the humorous fausts of the Poliburo is one of degree.

Freedom
I can think of no two things in the world more utterly incompatible than true art and the snobbery, the pretentious or the vulgar, that men think they have found.

I suppose some fine works of art have been produced by men and women whose bodies were in chains. John Bunyan, for instance, wrote his "Pilgrim's Progress" in a cell or out of it, no man was more free in spirit than John Bunyan.

The chains forged by the patrons of the arts are not physical but spiritual. Art, of all things, is that which most passionately requires freedom.

Inspiration controls its own velocity and its own volume. You can run water out of a spigot by turning the tap and saucers and a machine by winding a crank. But you can't turn out good art by turning a crank. It is the same way with the human mind.

These why my eyes are dry on the American scene is the least desirable feature of the art in that astonishing state.

Everywhere, in fact, the Russian music factory got into the hands of its brightest performers were hauled over the coals by the state for failing to turn out tunes which expressed the common emotion.

Just how anybody could incorporate the spirit of the veto into a sonata or weave world revolution into a symphony is beyond me.

But there it is. The Soviet music factory is only the carrying of the patronage system in the arts to its most logical and loathsome conclusion.

And the only difference, in the end, is that the Soviet system is more efficient.

McNaughton Has

Definite Mission At Lake Success

By WALTER O'BRIEN

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y.—General Andrew George Latta McNaughton has two very definite missions as Canadian delegate to the United Nations. These are to make a study of the atomic energy commission in its lifetime and to work for complete disarmament of the United States and the United Kingdom.

The General, who is a gruff, antique political Liberal, said all this. He has no vision of himself as a man of destiny. At 41, he can look back to a great career in two years, to respectable achievement as a scientist and to a rather distasteful brush with politics. He did not reach out for any laurels.

But those who have watched the Canadian delegate both in the Atomic Energy Commission and in the Security Council, are convinced that the purpose stated above are the guiding aims of his life. He is a man of great energy and a common alphabet.

McNaughton is usually prepared for a rough discussion of this type. He is happy at the open meeting of the Council. He is a distinguished figure, spare and grey, with a keen eye and a ready tongue. He is a man of great energy and a common alphabet. He is a man of great energy and a common alphabet.

Horsey And Buggy Era

Editor, Bulletin—While running through your column the other day I chanced upon a letter which to my opinion consisted of a group of thoughts which in regard to social betterment were more progressive. Since this person's theories on political or economic are a far from being progressive and happen to be of personal interest to myself, I thought I might call attention to them by publishing the following letter.

The so-called call of the Russian "home" from abroad signifies that the Russian people are in a state of social and economic backwardness, and all possible future guides and contras leaders and contra informers (when the upheaval starts in Russia) will be drawn from the ranks of the "home" from abroad.

Sternists Kidnap U.S. Gov't Clerk

Consulate Employee Is Said Mistreated in Jerusalem

By Carter L. Davidson
JERUSALEM, Aug. 24.—(AP)—John MacDonald, United States consul-general here has protested to the Jewish governor of Jerusalem that the Stern Gang kidnapped and mistreated an American consulate employee Sunday.

MacDonald said the Sternists seized George F. Pano, a confidential clerk, and held him for seven hours during which they had cuffed, blindfolded, slapped and questioned him.

CALLED BRITISH SPY:
An Israeli army source said the Sternists kidnapped Pano and called him a "damn British spy" because he bears a faint resemblance to a British detective who left Palestine four months ago.

After Pano was released by the Sternists he was held for another nine hours by Israeli military police. Asked why the army had held him so long a spokesman replied:

"To clean up such a mystery in nine hours is not bad police work."

MacDonald said he had filed a full report of the incident with the U.S. state department and had sent a strongly-worded protest to Dr. Ben-Zion, Jewish military governor in Jerusalem.

DEMANDS PROBE
He demanded an investigation "to appropriate apologies," and told Joseph:

"In reporting this matter to my government I pointed out that this case is indicative of the inability of the military government to control the situation in Jerusalem and at the same time the protection expected against terrorist organizations."

The Stern Gang, an extremist organization which works underground in the Jewish state, joined the Israeli army inside the state of Israel, but continues to operate underground in Jerusalem.

The Best banking system

CANADA has a banking system which, for efficiency and dependability, is unsurpassed in the world. Competitive, flexible, adaptable to the changing needs of the country, it serves Canada's producers, her industries, her traders—and it serves your personal needs, too.

No customer has to fear for the privacy of his regular banking transactions. This privacy is completely free of political pressures or considerations—it is rooted in Canadian banking practice and tradition.

Contrast this Canadian way with conditions in lands where freedom is denied—where every bank is a political tool, every banker a State official! State monopoly of banking, proposed by Socialists here, would fasten the Marxist foreign pattern on you.

Herbert Hoover Jr. Here on Oil Survey

A combined business and pleasure trip will take Herbert Hoover Jr., son of former U.S. President Hoover, on a sweeping tour of Alberta, western Canada and Alaska.

The younger Hoover, president of the United Geographical Company, denied any more than average interest in the political, world in which his father figured so strongly.

He displayed keen interest in the oil possibilities of Alberta, and revealed that his company has 12 geological survey parties working in the Edmonton area.

12 GROUPS
He estimated that the twelve parties employ an average of 15 men apiece, and are engaged in both seismic and gravimeter mapping of the oil areas.

The parties operate under contract to several large oil companies.

Of the vacation aspect of his journey, Mr. Hoover said he is not a newcomer to Canada, but added that this trip is the first he has made north of Calgary.

He expressed great interest in Jasper and particularly the fishing in the area.

"I love to fish," he said, "and so do all my family."

He is accompanied on the journey by his wife and daughter, Joan, 15.

Mr. Hoover plans to return to Seattle, Wash., by car through Revelstoke and Kamloops.

From Seattle, he will fly to Alaska and as far northwest as Point Barrow before returning to his home in Pasadena, Calif.

Mr. Hoover said his father is in good "excellent health" and has just celebrated his 74th birthday.

He added, however, that his own likelihood of his re-entering politics although he is an ardent Dewey supporter.

Jumping out of a night bus, about 10 miles from Whitehorse, north of Dawson Creek, the convoy rolled through steady rain and weather into the valley of the Lower River and the town of Whitehorse.

Brigadier A. B. Connolly, commander of the north-bound highway system, officially declared a welcome to the Exercise at an informal meeting Monday night.

Members of the Exercise, completing six days of tactical staff exercises along the highway, will relax on fishing trips and sightseeing conducted along the highway.

Travelling north from Whitehorse, members of the Exercise will fish in mountain streams on the way to Inuvik, on the Pacific coast, where Canadian Army engineers building a steel viaduct across the Donjek River, four

Australian Pleased With Unity of Alberta's People

Alberta's provincial election last week proves that we are a united people.

That is the observation of William Morris Harrell, Australian soldier, ex-mayor, and economist, who visited Edmonton during the past two days.

Overwhelming Social Credit victory in the election illustrates that most provinces and states in Canada and the U.S. and far better than the rest of the world.

With the exception of Australia, that is.

Alberta stands above any country in the world, he told The Bulletin.

Mr. Harrell has had plenty of experience in Australian public life to form a sound opinion.

Starting out as a young soldier during the First World War with the original Anzac force, he also served in the Second World War as lieutenant-colonel in the Australian army.

EX-MAYOR
He recently completed a two-year term of office as mayor of the city of Unley, a suburb of Adelaide, with a population of 60,000 was for 35 years alderman and councillor of that city.

At present he is an accountant and a consulting engineer.

As a sideline, he is a student of international economics and finance.

Mr. Harrell thinks that Australia is the best country in the world.

Diseases Show Bad Decline
Twenty-nine cases of communicable diseases were reported in Edmonton last week as compared to 41 the week previous.

Cases of diphtheria dropped from 12 to seven, and measles from 19 to 10. One case each of typhus, scarlet fever, and whooping cough were reported during the week. Six cases of poliomyelitis were reported, the same as the previous week.

Meat Prices Are Sky-High

Buyer Resistance Mounts With Cost

Meat prices in Edmonton attained a new high today as dealers reached the end of stocks purchased before last week's lifting of the embargo on beef export to the United States.

Wholesale prices, which packers revealed to have risen "75 to 20 per cent", have caused equivalent increases in several cuts of meat.

Prime steaks jumped from 65-68 cents to 75-75 cents. Round steak went up five to eight cents from last week's 60 cents. Hamburger, which had ranged from 35 cents to 40 cents, is now selling at 40-48 cents.

VEAL JUMPS
Veal chops are up from 50-55 cents to 51-63 cents. The economical roast seems to be one of the items which are faced with veal roast at 45-52 cents, from last week's 41-43 cents.

Liver underwent the greatest increase of all meats. In one store, the price is now 55 cents, and other stores make similar increases.

Even the usually cheap ready-to-eat meats are greatly increased in price. Bologna is now at 45-48 cents instead of 35-38 cents. Wieners, which had ranged from 35 cents to 40 cents, are now selling at 40-48 cents.

Buyer's resistance is reported to be increasing steadily, with dealers estimating a drop from five per cent to 35 per cent drop in sales because of the new high prices.

Most buyers have observed that the average Edmonton housewife is now buying less than three times a week instead of every day.

Although one butcher, who admitted to a slight loss of sales, said that "after all, people won't stop eating meat, so now that meat prices are probably steadied, I think that sales will soon be normal."

A cross-section of Edmonton housewives, in a Bulletin telephone survey, indicated quite definitely that they intend to buy less meat per week, and cheaper cuts, until the price drops.

Arson Hinted In Victoria School Blaze
Possibility that a mysterious fire at Victoria high school Monday night was "deliberately set" was suggested by Deputy Fire Commissioner A. E. Bridges today.

The blaze caused several hundred dollars damage to temporary buildings, located at the rear of the main school. Debris in one of the huts were damaged by water.

Fire is believed to have started outside one of the four single-story huts used as temporary class rooms.

Members of the Fire Commissioner's department and Fire Marshal Jack Hoots are probing the possible cause of the blaze.

"Since the fire started from the outside of the building, we are sure it was caused either by a careless accident or was deliberately set," Deputy Fire Commissioner Bridges told The Bulletin.

The damaged corner of the building, and spread to the adjacent hut where it set the roof afire.

Firemen from halls 2 and 3 used line of hose to extinguish the blaze.

Earlier Monday firemen responded to a call to a frame shop in the Calder district where fire of unknown origin started a few minutes after the owner had left the building.

Miner Killed
Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co. of Canada Ltd. has started a mineral exploration on 500 square miles near Point, Great Slave Lake, Mines and Resources Minister Hon. James A. Mackin said Monday.

Under a three-year reservation agreement with the federal government, the Consolidated Company and Ventures Ltd. will undertake discovery and development of scarce base metals, with the emphasis on lead and zinc.

Exploration drilling is already underway, with a geological survey party under Dr. C. Campbell working in the area since June 20.

Great Slave Lake is approximately 800 miles north of Edmonton in the North West Territories.

Under the terms of the reservation agreement, the companies undertake to spend $50,000 in the year, and $25,000 in each of the second and third years.

Expenditures in excess of the amount stipulated in any one year is to be credited to amounts to be spent in succeeding years. If "no commercial quantities of minerals are found, the companies are required to spend the required amounts, the reservation fees are subject to cancellation.

The companies also agreed to re-lease one-half of the reserved area at the end of the second year.

If all conditions are fulfilled, however, the companies ask to be granted a 10-year extension.

Britons Boost 'Own Television Industry

LONDON, Aug. 21.—(Reuters)—Britain today advised other countries to pin their faith to the British system of television.

A long-awaited statement of government policy, issued by the General Post Office, said that after inquiry by experts it had been decided not to change the present British system for years yet because no developments have been found that would justify making existing television sets obsolete.

This was cheering news for British radio industry, whose experts have been so far discouraged because of fears that new ideas in television would wipe out existing apparatus. It was also heartening news for British GPO television license holders, whose enjoyment has been limited with the thought that they

The railroad said the new car has bright lights, fans, screens, card tables and a "kibitzer's bench" for those over-zealous players.

AFTER FEW YEARS' LAPSE

'Lady in Black' Back Again at Rudy's Grave

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 24.—"The Lady in Black"—or, anyway, a lady in black—showed up yesterday at the tomb of film actor Rudolph Valentino on the 22nd anniversary of his death. It was the first time in several years that she had appeared. For long after the Latin film idol's death a black-clad woman went to his grave every year and deposited flowers. This lady was again seen as a press agent stunt when someone got her wires crossed and two "ladies in black" dropped around at the same time. Yesterday's said her name was Irina Flame and that she is head of the Valentino Memorial Fund. She arrived at the cemetery about, carrying a huge bouquet of flowers. Valentino died of acute appendicitis in New York, Aug. 23, 1926.

Jewish Immigration

JERUSALEM, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Delegates to the general Zionist council meeting were told yesterday a total of 125,000 Jews will have immigrated to Israel by the end of 1948. Moshe Shapira, Israeli immigration minister, told delegates 50,000 immigrants have arrived since Jan. 1, including 25,000 who arrived since the state of Israel was created May 14.

Poet's Body Will Be Buried in Eire

DUBLIN, Aug. 24.—(AP)—The Eire government announced last night the body of Irish poet William Butler Yeats will be returned from France in September. Yeats died in the south of France in 1939 and because of the war was buried there. Before his death, however, he expressed a wish to be buried in Donnybrook cemetery, County Dublin.

United States Defence Secretary James Forrestal was reported in both American and some Canadian newspapers to have returned back to Washington, following last week's conference with defence minister.

BRIDGE

Just Count Points

For Right Response

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY

This is the second of a series of articles on a new booklet by Fred Karpin of Washington, D.C., entitled "The Point-Count System of Bidding in Contract Bridge."

The basic principle of the system is that an ace counts four, a king three, a queen two and a jack one. The fifth card of a suit counts a point, and the sixth card counts an additional point. No points are added for the seventh card, in case you are lucky enough to hold a seven-card suit.

As Karpin points out, the responder is generally the initial captain of the team, because he is in a position to judge the possibilities of the hand. The opening bidder announces that he has a minimum of 13 points when he makes the bid. If the responder has 13 points, he makes a total of 26, he knows that there is a game in the hand.

If he has less than 13 points, here are the basic responses: Holding 6 to 9 points, the responding hand is entitled to just one "responsive" bid; that is, a bid in which he either raises his partner's suit to the next higher level, or bids a suit of his own.

Holding 10 to 12 points, the responding hand is entitled to make two responsive bids. Holding 13 points, he may make as many progressive bids as he wishes in order to arrive at a game contract. He must be careful, however, not to get above the game contract level.

On today's hand, which is taken from Karpin's booklet, North and South probably would arrive at four hearts with almost any system of bidding, but under the point-count system, it is impossible to miss four hearts. South's bid of one heart shows at least 13 points. When North bids one spade, all he promises is from 6 to 9 points.

However, after South's two-heart bid, North goes to three hearts. This is his second progressive bid and guarantees 10 to 12 points. Now South, having 16 points, can safely bid four hearts. Even if North has the minimum guarantee of 10, there is game.

In the play of the hand South loses only two clubs and a diamond.

Campaign to Oust Tito Stepped Up

Top Communists Hurl Violent Denunciations at Yugoslav Chief

By John Scall

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Russia and her Balkan satellites are stepping up their campaign to oust Marshal Tito as premier of Yugoslavia, diplomatic officials said today.

These authorities point to increasing violent denunciations of Tito from every top Communist official in eastern Europe outside Yugoslavia.

This Moscow-led torrent of abuse kept up even while Tito was playing host to the recent Danube conference in Belgrade and voting consistently with the Soviet bloc.

Government officials familiar with eastern Europe say the disagreement between Tito and the Russian brand of Communism now is so fundamental it rules out any possibility of compromise.

This increases the chance that Tito may, in desperation, turn to the west for support, but there is no real sign of such a move yet.

And, despite the swelling stream of anti-Tito invective, officials here say they regard it as unlikely that Russia or any of her satellites will order troops into Yugoslavia.

Their view is that any such resort to force not only would certainly drive Tito into the arms of the west but would bring the United Nations into the picture.

POINTED AT TITO
Thus officials say the campaign appears to be pointed more directly at Tito in person rather than his government. In this connection, they cite a letter reported sent to Tito last March 27 by the central committee of the Russian Communist party.

This letter pointedly recalled how Leon Trotsky, another "traitor" in Soviet eyes, met his death in Mexico in 1940 at the hands of an assassin.

Big Cigarette Theft
DOVER, England, Aug. 24.—(Reuters)—Thieves stole more than 200,000 cigarettes valued at £5,000 (£20,000) from a bonded warehouse where they were awaiting customs clearance Saturday. The theft took place at the height of Britain's "cigarette famine."

Forward Step in Farm Mechanization

Another new and major Massey-Harris contribution to Canadian farm farming is the "Pony" tractor, pictured above.

With its specially designed, quick-mounted tools, the "Pony" brings the advantage of full-scale power farming to the operators of small farms and market gardens, whose acreage does not justify the investment in large-size standard equipment. There are thousands of such farms in this country.

Equally important, the introduction of the Massey-Harris "Pony" tractor has provided new jobs for hundreds of Canadian workmen . . . because the "Pony" is made in one of our Canadian factories.

Thus, the "Pony" tractor is a double-barrelled contribution to Canada's over-all development. It helps to increase farm output and decrease production costs, on both large and small farms. And it helps to increase the incomes and purchasing power of Canadian workmen . . . not only those directly employed by Massey-Harris but also those engaged in providing materials and parts.
